Bleary eyes, jangled nerves, and the calming aid of the SPIRIT sponsor, Mr. Trump, have all been contributing factors in making this year-book possible. It has been a long grinding process since the publication of last year's SPIRIT until the formal presentation of this one. We hope you will appreciate your book more fully after reading the following story of how the SPIRIT budded, blossomed, and finally bloomed.

The major person to whom all your thanks can go was the versatile editor, Jackie Andre, who organized and combined the separate departments to form one unit, with the assistance of Barb Kurtz. The selection of the cover was made last summer by the staff.

The art editor, Karen Allen, was given two dummies, so called because they are the patterns from which the book is compiled. Karen drew in layouts on each page of both dummies, designating the proper place for copy, pictures, and ads.

From this step the art editor gave the measurements and page numbers to the proper departments.

The ad department, which consisted of Rosemary Summers and Kathy Howell, sold ads, pasted layouts, assigned pictures, and conferred with the printers. Rosey worked with John Puffett, business manager, in keeping a balance between income and expenses.

Jan Judisch, photography editor, relayed the suggestions of the art editor and submitted assignments to her able staff of photographers: Steve Wells, John Talbert, and Charles Klopff.

Approved pictures were numbered and sent to the Tru-Art Engravers in Cedar Rapids. The pictures were here reproduced on zinc plates mounted on wooden blocks called cuts which were sent to the Greenwood Printing Company. The printers then, by using their dummy, made the final layout with the actual cuts and type.

The copy department, Delores Robbins and Mary McTague, wrote articles, typed them, and fit them into the various layouts. After the type was set, proofs were made to eliminate any error.

The presses were then ready to roll, but there is still one major department headed by Mary Platt which was indispensable. Her staff is composed of everyone who purchased a SPIRIT—and we'd just like to say thanks for all of your help!

School Board and Superintendent

Walter Hetzel

Beginning this year, Ames High School was privileged to serve under a new superintendent. Hailing from Decorah, Iowa, where he had previously served as superintendent of schools, Mr. Hetzel has just completed his first successful year in Ames of coordinating the functions and activities of the Ames schools.

Serving in his office staff are: Frank Howell, secretary to the Board; Mrs. Grayce I. Elliott, secretary to the Superintendent; Miss Laura Sayre, secretary to Mr. Howell; Mrs. Edna H. Davis, bookkeeper; and Mrs. Duane Engelhard; secretary.

Members of the 1955-1956 Board of Education are: Frank E. Adams, President; Frank B. Howell, Secretary; Hiram Munn, Treasurer; Thomas Hannum, Earl Holtz, Mrs. Lee Rosebrook, Don S. Stevens, Dr. Julia Cole Welden, O. L. Stewart, and Walter Hetzel.

Herbert Adams

Principal

Ames High school owes a debt of gratitude to its principal, Herbert Adams, for his support and guidance of the students and their activities. To him goes the responsibility of administering, organizing, and coordinating all the various groups which require his constant support. He is the clearing agent for all problems of the school, an advisor to the teachers, a guide to the students, and the foundation of the student groups.

It is also the duty of the principal to interpret and execute the rules and regulations of the Board of Education as they effect the high school.

Mr. Adam's major duty is to prepare class schedules for all the students.

Secretaries

Assisting Mr. Adams in the office and contributing greatly to the efficiency of our school were Mrs. Daisy Flack, Miss Barbara Hyler, and Mrs. Ruth Green. They were assisted by the student help: Barb Gilchrist, Karyl Sills, Jan Hutchison, Kathleen Melampy, Ethel Bortle, Faith King, Karen Wall, Julie Hegland, Ginnie Randau, Margie Hirschburg, Ann Gulden, Jo Schrampfer, Gail Walker, Vicki Thorpe, and Judy Broadwell.

Office girls picked up attendance slips, authorized passes, and did other various odd jobs around the office. Those who worked three days a week received one-fourth credit per semester.

School Nurse and Custodians

"Clean as a whistle," that's how Ames High school was kept by the three custodians: Sylvester Newkirk, Paul Sherman, and Joe Middents. Each day they arrived at school early to unlock doors and sweep the gym. Throughout the whole day they followed a regular schedule keeping each room and hall in good condition. Before leaving at night they completed their work by locking doors and checking windows. They also aided the different organizations by moving pianos, setting the stage, and other various duties.

Miss Ruth Ecklind, the school nurse, was on hand every morning from 8 to 9. The better students met at 12:45 every noon and received admits for being absent three days or more. She also administered first aid to minor emergency cases which frequently arose through the school. Sophomores and new students were given physical examinations. Eye examinations were also given to each driver-training student.

*Mrs. Maude Marsh, Mrs. Cornelia Erickson,
Mrs. Anna Moreland*

"What are Davy Crockett beans?" was a question frequently asked of Mrs. Maude Marsh, Mrs. Cornelia Erickson, and Mrs. Anna Moreland, who prepared meals for approximately 175 persons every day. Serving in the line were: Shirley Kooser, Marlys Johnson, Edith Foderberg, and Judy Broadwell. Rog Teig served faculty lunches. Bill Gulliver, Carroll Brekke, Bill Bucholtz, Doug Shepherd, Rog Points and Dick Gulliver were on K. P. Barb Erickson and Sally Kooser acted as cashiers. Nancy Olson set the menu.

Firesquad

Perhaps the most respected organization at Ames High School is the Firesquad which supervised the lunch line and all fire drills. In addition to this they took turns helping to maintain clean and orderly halls each day during alternate weeks.

New members were chosen from lists of names recommended by junior high school principals.

Officers of the club were chosen last spring for the following year. Bob Ellis and Joe Fellows were elected to lead the group. They conducted meetings each Thursday noon.

Government of the students, for the students, and by the students; this is the motto which the student council of Ames High has tried to fulfill during the past year.

The homeroom representative placed before the council many issues concerning the school, its functions and activities. Besides open debates, the council supervised the election of the Student Body President. Steve Walsh was elected in the spring of 1955 and was succeeded by Joe Fellows at the close of the first semester. They followed parliamentary procedure during their meetings which were conducted every Monday.

Steve was aided during his term of office by an able cabinet composed of: Bob Callahan, vice-president; Susan Allen, secretary; Nancy Hagge, treasurer.

The cabinet elected to serve Joe second semester was Chuck Elder, vice-president; Kathy Wolf, secretary; Nancy Hagge, treasurer.

The committees of welcoming, noon-hour, election, awards, citizenship, social, assembly, and publicity were selected from the student body by the executive council.

Senior Senate

BACK: J. Carr, Jensen, A. Brown, Houck, L. Caldwell. FRONT: Shearer, Gulliver, C. F. Schach, Hawk, Sobolev, Mr. Belluzo.

President, Jim Carr; Secretary, Zoya Sobolev; Treasurer, Eloise Hawk; and Vice-president, George Nielsen.

The seniors bid a fond adieu to Ames High! Memories of an eventful year filled the minds of the graduating class as they stepped across the stage for the last time to receive their symbol of both work and play well done.

The governing body of the class was the Senior Senate led by Jim Carr, president; George Nielsen, vice president; Zoya Sobolev, secretary; and Eloise Hawk, treasurer. In addition to these members, the Senate was composed of eight homeroom representatives and their presidents.

In order to raise money for the senior activities, the seniors selected a play and staged it in cooperation with the dramatics class under the direction of R. T. Hamilton. The play, Uncle Harry by Thomas Job, was successfully presented on April 27 and 28 with three major sets.

The Senior Senate supervised the preparations for senior week. Included in the activities of this week was a day of rollicking fun at the Ames Golf and Country Club on May 31.

Lawrence Belluzzo served as the class sponsor. Baccalaureate and Commencement brought a perfect ending to a perfect year at Ames High!

Dirt from head to toe, elbows greased with dough, and ears filled with corn; this was the description of a typical junior as he contributed his aid to the money making projects of his class. A carwash, a bake sale, and a corn-pick were all included in the activities sponsored by the Junior Executive Council.

The juniors were led by Bob Covey, president; George Torrey, vice-president; Mary McTague, secretary; Ruth Hosmer, treasurer; and Shirley Backous, assistant treasurer. Ted Kooser served as representative from H. R. 213, and Dave Sucher from H. R. 221.

Also included in the numerous feats of the junior class were the sale of spudnuts and milk at the high school parties and the junior class play, You Can't Take It With You. The successful comedy by George Kaufman and Moss Hart was presented in cooperation with Robert Hamilton, drama director.

Four long weeks of rehearsals and crew work were climaxed by the presentation of You Can't Take It With You on February 16 and 18. The following were crews for the play and their heads: stage, Robert Schaeffer; costumes, Ellen Berenstein; make-up, Nancy Thornton; properties, Nancy Hagge and Kathie Howell; lights, Bob Stebbins; sound, Paul Borts; sales, Ruth Hosmer; programs, Mary McTague; publicity, Bob Covey and Ted Kooser; and house-management, Dave Sucher and George Torrey. Marcia Lindquist and Heide Heileman served as bookholders. Ira Berck designed the set. Jo Ann Geiger served as director's assistant and Janet Linderoth as stage manager.

The juniors cooperated to make all their activities a success. $1,000 was needed to finance the junior-senior prom held on May 19, in the high school gym.

The prom climaxed the year; five committees for the prom were headed by the members of the council. They were: entertainment, Bob Covey; banquet, Dave Sucher and George Torrey; programs, Shirley Backous; seating, Ted Kooser; and decorations, Ruth Hosmer and Mary McTague.

The class completed a very successful year under the direction of its class sponsor, George MacBride. The juniors were also responsible for ushers at baccalaureate and commencement.

ACTIVE LIFE

Girl Reserves

BACK: Foderberg, Rouze, C. Smith, Pavageau, Matterson.
FRONT: LeMoine, Boeke, Scarlow, G. Green.

"To face life squarely" was the vow taken by each member of Girl Reserve during her initiation into that organization. The responsibility of the leadership of such a dedicated group was accepted by its cabinet, homeroom representatives, and sponsors.

Jean Talcott carried out the duties of first semester president, succeeded the second semester by Delores Robbins. The minutes were recorded by Sharon Small, secretary. Sue Truesdell balanced the budget.

The cabinet posts were: music, devotions, programs, publicity, service, and social. Two girls were elected to plan the functions of each post for one semester.

Zoya Sobolev and Marlys Johnson let the homeroom representatives as first and second semester presidents.

The representatives furnished the mainspring in the organization. Each representative collected such items as money, clothing, packages, and ballots from her homeroom at various times throughout the year.

Their enthusiasm of promoting new ideas made the year a success.

The Ames High Girl Reserves spurred on many old as well as new projects. Their success was attributed to the interest of the girls and the excellent sponsorship of Miss Edna Wilcox, Miss Ruth Miller, and Mrs. Charlotte Whitney.

The year began with a bang, as the G.R. and Hi-Y sponsored a Newcomers' Party to get acquainted with the new arrivals in school. The annual Dad-Daughter party, Friendship Week, Mother-Daughter tea, and Big-Pal picnic were major spectacles. Selling pencils and holly wreaths, packing clothes, visiting the county home, and supporting their foster child, Lydia Tancers, helped each girl appreciate the benefits of the organization.

A Girl Reserve lounge was decorated and served the girls for reading, meditation, and all around fun.

Warmth of both the body and spirit was achieved at the different firesides sponsored by the Ames High Hi-Y at Lynn Fuher Lodge. Separate firesides were held for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. A special fireside brought a finale to the football season.

John Tziyeroglou, a Greek boy, was sponsored by the Hi-Y. The other activities which the boys supported included the concessions at all home games, Friendship Week, the Newcomers' Luncheon and Party, and the County Home Christmas project. The Hi-Y worked jointly with the G.R. on many of their industrious projects.

Everett Ritland and Lawrence Belluzo supervised the Hi-Y as sponsors of the organization. The Hi-Y lounge was maintained for all boys.

Hi-Y

What's your hobby? Questions dealing with hobbies were answered by the Hi-Y in an informal and different manner. One expert was selected from the boys to plan worthwhile programs in each of the following fields: aeronautics, athletics, auto mechanics, hunting and fishing, gymnastics, and photography.

One central meeting was also held each month with speakers, panels, and movies of general interest.

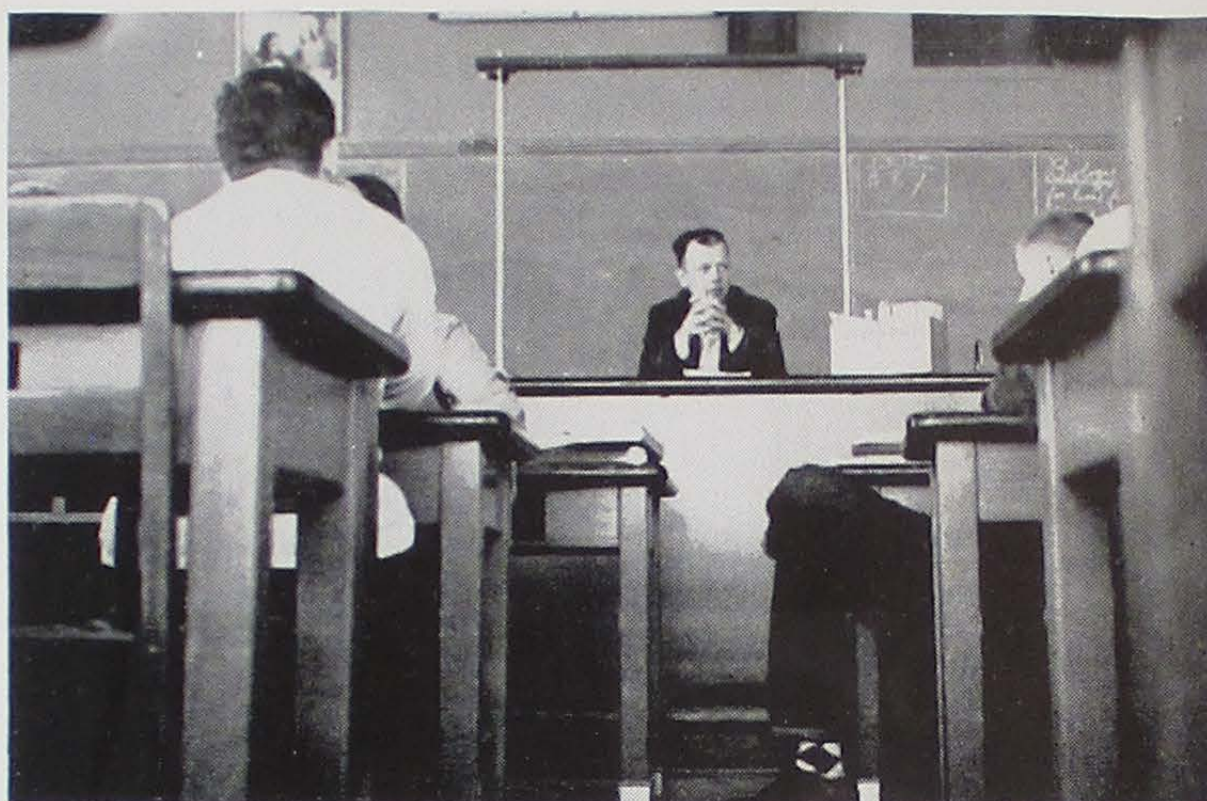

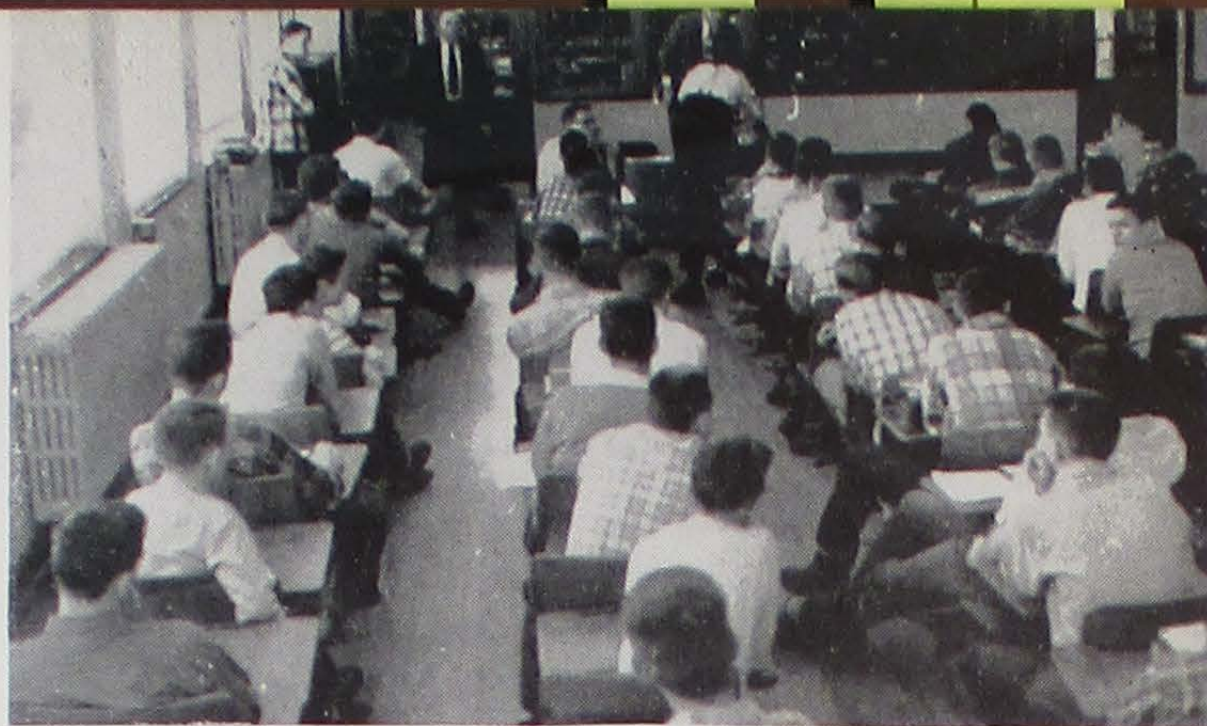

The Hi-Y cabinet, which consisted of 14 members each semester, was led by the presidents Fritz Jackson and Jim Balloun.

Bob Ellis and Steve Adams executed the duties of first and second semester vice presidents, respectively.

Johnny Goessman kept the facts straight as secretary. The treasury was guarded by Don Geiger.

Everett Ritland and Lawrence Belluzzo sponsored the organization.

The boys enjoyed a variety of activities ranging from wrestling exhibitions to demonstrating "do it yourself" projects.

One of the most active organizations in Ames High School is the Drama Club which offered an opportunity for all persons interested in drama to pursue their interests. Under the sponsorship of Robert T. Hamilton, students met three times a week. Members were required to keep a notebook and attend regular class periods in order to receive one-fourth credit each semester.

All persons starting work in drama enter a beginning dramatics class. Beginning students studied the history of the theater, set construction, scene design, costume history, stage make-up, and orientation to stage equipment. These students had an opportunity to employ their knowledge by working on the annual drama club production, Cuckoos On the Hearth, by Parker Fennelly.

After having been in a beginning drama class one year, students joined the advanced drama class. This class devoted its time to pantomining, basic fundamentals of directing, techniques of acting, and presentation of scenes. Advanced students had opportunity to act in the drama club play, the Christmas one-act, the junior and senior class plays, and the three one-act plays presented in the spring by the dramatics department.

Palm Club

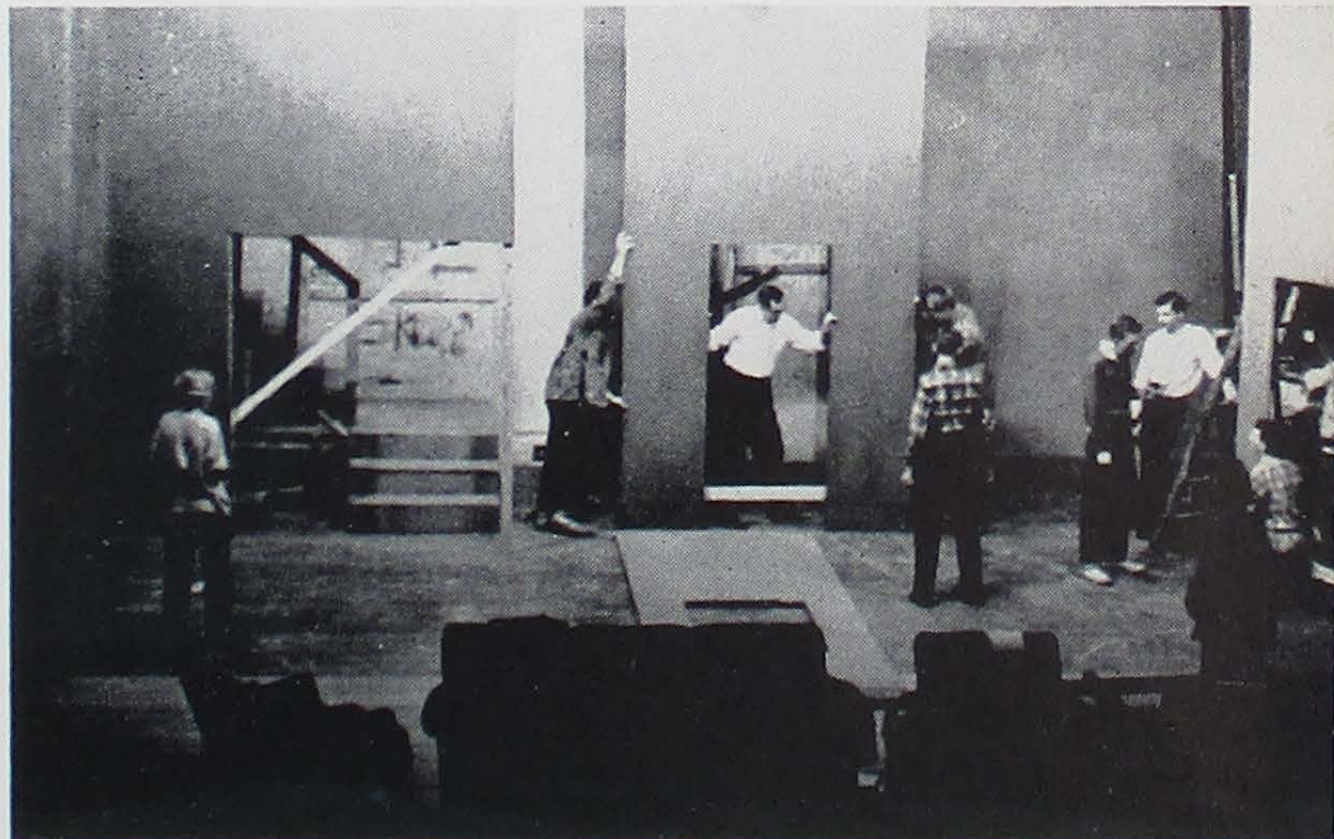

Claiming membership to Palm Club, the only honorary organization in Ames High, were sixteen members of the Drama Club.

Requirements for admission were fifty-two points, earned by working on drama productions, two crew-heads, and three semesters of drama.

John Lawson ably led the group; the "veep" position went to Eloise Hawk. The task of secretary fell on Max Stoever, and Jan Judisch was treasurer.

Debate

Resolved: that the governmental subsidies should be granted according to the need of high school graduates who qualify for additional training. This was the statement heatedly discussed this year in debate under the sponsorship of Mrs. Avonelle Garrett. Requirements for membership in debate were interest in debate and speech work.

First semester the group was headed by Bill Brindley, president; Edith Lilly, vice-president; and Elizabeth Spedding, secretary-treasurer. Jerry Shipley, Dave Phillips, and Edith Lilly assumed command and presided over the weekly meetings second semester.

The debate squad participated in a number of out-of-town debates. Included were: Discussion Tournament, Iowa City; a preliminary meet, Fort Dodge; district tournament, Ames; Brindley Tournament, Cedar Falls; and Coe Tournament, Cedar Rapids.

The squad practiced extemporaneous speaking before working on the debate topic.

Getting ready for the downbeat is Mr. Day, director.

Frequently referred to as "Ames High's finest" were the Ames High marching and concert bands, who certainly earned the compliment.

Under the excellent supervision of Mr. Richard Day, band sponsor, students practiced every morning from 7:55 to 8:35 with the exception of Monday.

Besides performing at each of the home football games, the Ames High School marching band participated at Band Day, at Iowa State College. Perhaps the highlights of the season were journeys to Boone and West Waterloo where the band performed at half time. The Ames High band also made a proud showing at Veishea in the spring at Iowa State College.

The concert band held its annual spring concert and performed at two assemblies.

Orchestra

Ames High had good reason to be proud of its sixty piece orchestra this year. Fourteen members qualified to participate in the all-state orchestra held in Des Moines over Thanksgiving vacation. Those that auditioned and were accepted were Diana Rex, Don Martin, Bill Henderson, Mary Lou Gould, and David Keller, violins; Nancy Anderson, Margaret Shrader, Tessie Pappos, violas; Charlene Caldwell, Tom Timm, cellos; and Jim Vandercar and John Munson, bass.

Performances were given by the orchestra on U. N. Day, at Baccalaureate, Commencement, and at the drama, junior, and senior class plays.

A Pops Concert was held jointly with the A Cappella Choir on February 2. The orchestra also performed at the Tallcorn Music Festival.

Violin: Rex, Lounsberry, D. Martin, Biester, L. Adams, Sorenson, Pinnell, Henderson, Louise Thompson, Judy Simpson, Gould, Maakestad, Arrasmith, Wildman, E. Wardle, D. Executing the various chords, as directed by Mr. Cross, the sophomore mixed chorus sang their way through an eventful year.

The chorus was composed of sophomores selected for the qualifications of dependability and talent.

Besides singing for public functions, the choral groups sang for Girl Reserves at different programs.

Wayne Cross formed several new music groups. The boys quartet, girls sextettes, and mixed quartets were chosen from the larger vocal groups.

The sophomores enjoyed the opportunity to sing in the new chorus.

The swelling notes of music which many service clubs, church groups and student groups enjoyed came from the hearts of the A Cappella Choir.

The songsters were selected by Wayne Cross, musical director. The chosen leaders of the organization were Roger Nichols, president; Marie Daniels, vice president; Ethel Bortle, secretary-treasurer; Bette Cottingham, librarian; and George Torrey and Barb Kurtz, robekeepers.

Music appreciation was emphasized as one of the major aims of the group besides public appearance.

Where shall we go - oh today?

The gleeful masculine voices of the high school were combined to form the Boys' Glee Club.

The sophomore club elected Jerry Booth, president; Merrill Harlan, vice president; Bob Stensland, secretary-treasurer; and Dave Schaeffer, librarian to lead the group.

Don Martin accompanied the junior and senior boys' voices which were united under the direction of Wayne Cross. The club was organized with Jim Balloun, president; Dave Phillips, vice president; Peter Getz, secretary-treasurer; and Don Martin, librarian.

The clubs performed together for the special program at Christmas, in the annual spring concert, and at Woodward.

The Boys' Glee Club was formed only this past year by Wayne Cross and held within its ranks many enthused and talented boys. The number of boys interested in the club was so great that two separate club were designated by classes.

Lilting songs were produced by two Girls' Glee Clubs, under the supervision of Mr. Cross.

The junior and senior club was open for all girls interested.

President Jackie Van Scoy led the older group, while Kathy Hansen presided over the sophomores.

The group met during regular class periods to increase their musical knowledge and prepare for various programs during the year.

Web Staff

The inspired journalists of Ames High kept the presses of the Tribune rolling each week as they produced the school paper.

Besides the Web the main emphasis of the class was placed on journalistic technique. Students learned newspaper terms, headline and news writing. They learned how to interview people and how to develop individual styles. They were given an opportunity to show their newly developed styles in editorials.

The first semester staff heralded Bette Cottingham and Bill Gulliver as editors.

Steve Wells and Steve Adams were editors the second semester. Mrs. Charlotte Whitney instructed the enthusiastic writers.

"Do you have thirty inches yet?" was a question frequently tossed back and forth between members of the Cubs' Club the past year.

Cubs' Club, sponsored by Mrs. Charlotte Whitney, is an organization for all students interested in journalism, but not enrolled in journalism class.

The Cubs met and held a luncheon approximately every two weeks. At their meetings they enjoyed a variety of programs which included panels, speakers, and a tour through the Tribune newspaper office. Newspaper terms and fundamentals of news and feature stories were taught at the meetings.

If the struggling Cubs achieved their goal of thirty inches in published copy, they became "real" cubs on the Web Staff. This honor remained until graduation.

Library Club

Tiptoeing in and out, the Library Club performed many important tasks and planned and carried out a number of activities this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Dickenson, this large group of girls met and held a luncheon approximately every two weeks. Included in their list of jobs were classifying and cataloging new books, checking books in and out, repairing books and magazines, and keeping the card catalogue in order.

The group was led by Nancy Thornton, first semester, and Marcia Lindquist served second semester.

The seasonal displays were also the charge of the Library Club. They were assisted by other students in the school who also contributed their time and efforts in arranging the second floor display case.

Treasurers

"All good things must come to an end" was the verdict of the most methodical organization in the high school, the student treasurers.

The general treasurer, Mary McNally, and the athletic treasurer, Don Hartt, supervised the records to see that accurate and complete accounts were kept.

During the absence of these advisors, Mrs. Ruth Green took over the chores.

The general account of the high school operated over the separate accounts.

When a group takes in money, the group treasurer counts it, makes out receipts, and turns it over to the general treasurer.

Miss McNally was aided by Mary Chase and Mr. Hartt by Jim Hixon

Junior Red Cross

A gift chest, made in cooperation with the other Story County schools, was one of the Junior Red Cross's finest projects this year. The box was filled with school and health supplies and recreational equipment, and delivered to needy schools overseas. Junior Red Cross also cooperated with F.H.A. to make sock dolls which were sent to children in Europe. These were only two of the many services and projects accomplished by the group.

Red Cross was sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Dickenson.

Meetings were held in the form of luncheons approximately every two weeks. The club was headed by Virginia Magoon first semester. Katen Allen assumed leadership second semester.

FHA

A cherry pie sale was perhaps the most popular project of F.H.A. this year. Senior, sophomore, and junior alike were more than delighted to buy the delicious pies prepared by the girls.

Future Homemakers of America was sponsored by Miss Blanche Miller and Miss Betty Trout. Helen Throckmorton served as president and Pat Bloomfield was elected vice-president. Sandy Rouze filled the post of secretary; Joyce Olsan and Margie Hirschburg handled the job of treasurer first and second semesters respectively. Ada Marie Gray acted as music chairman. Mary Louise Judge served as decoration chairman. Linda Miller was elected historian and chairman of publicity. The parliamentarian was Jo Anne Duffy.

Film Operators and Rifle Club

BACK: Case, Berck, Haupt, Perry, Arthur, Stebbins, Mr. Page. FRONT: Molleston, Hirschburg, Curry, Soesbe, Yokum.

The club which gained praise from test-loving students was the Film Operators' Club, headed by Kenneth Page. The club helped all new recruits learn the basic fundamentals of operating technical machinery. Leland Perry, Jean Talcott, and Judy Lyttle officiated the club.

The German title of Der Fuhrer was bestowed on Louis Thompson as leader of the Rifle Club. The club was supervised by Everett Ritland, Captain Sherman, and Paul Severson.

The resounding shots were fired every Monday night at the college armory rifle range.

BACK: M. Buck, Louis Thompson, Brue, Mr. Ritland. FRONT: Booth, Spencer, L. Morrison.

Radio Club

The organization which held the undisputed title of shocking more people than any other was the Radio Club under the guidance of Ronald Easter.

This group met each Tuesday during the 5th period to work on individual projects and hold business meetings. The individual projects were selected by each member and built with the aid of fellow students and Mr. Easter.

The constitution of the club states that to be a member you must have "an honest desire to learn about and work with radio." The boys were organized with Jim Balloun, director; John McComb, chairman of equipment; Roger Carr, chairman of activities; and Bill Smith chairman of business.

Photo Club

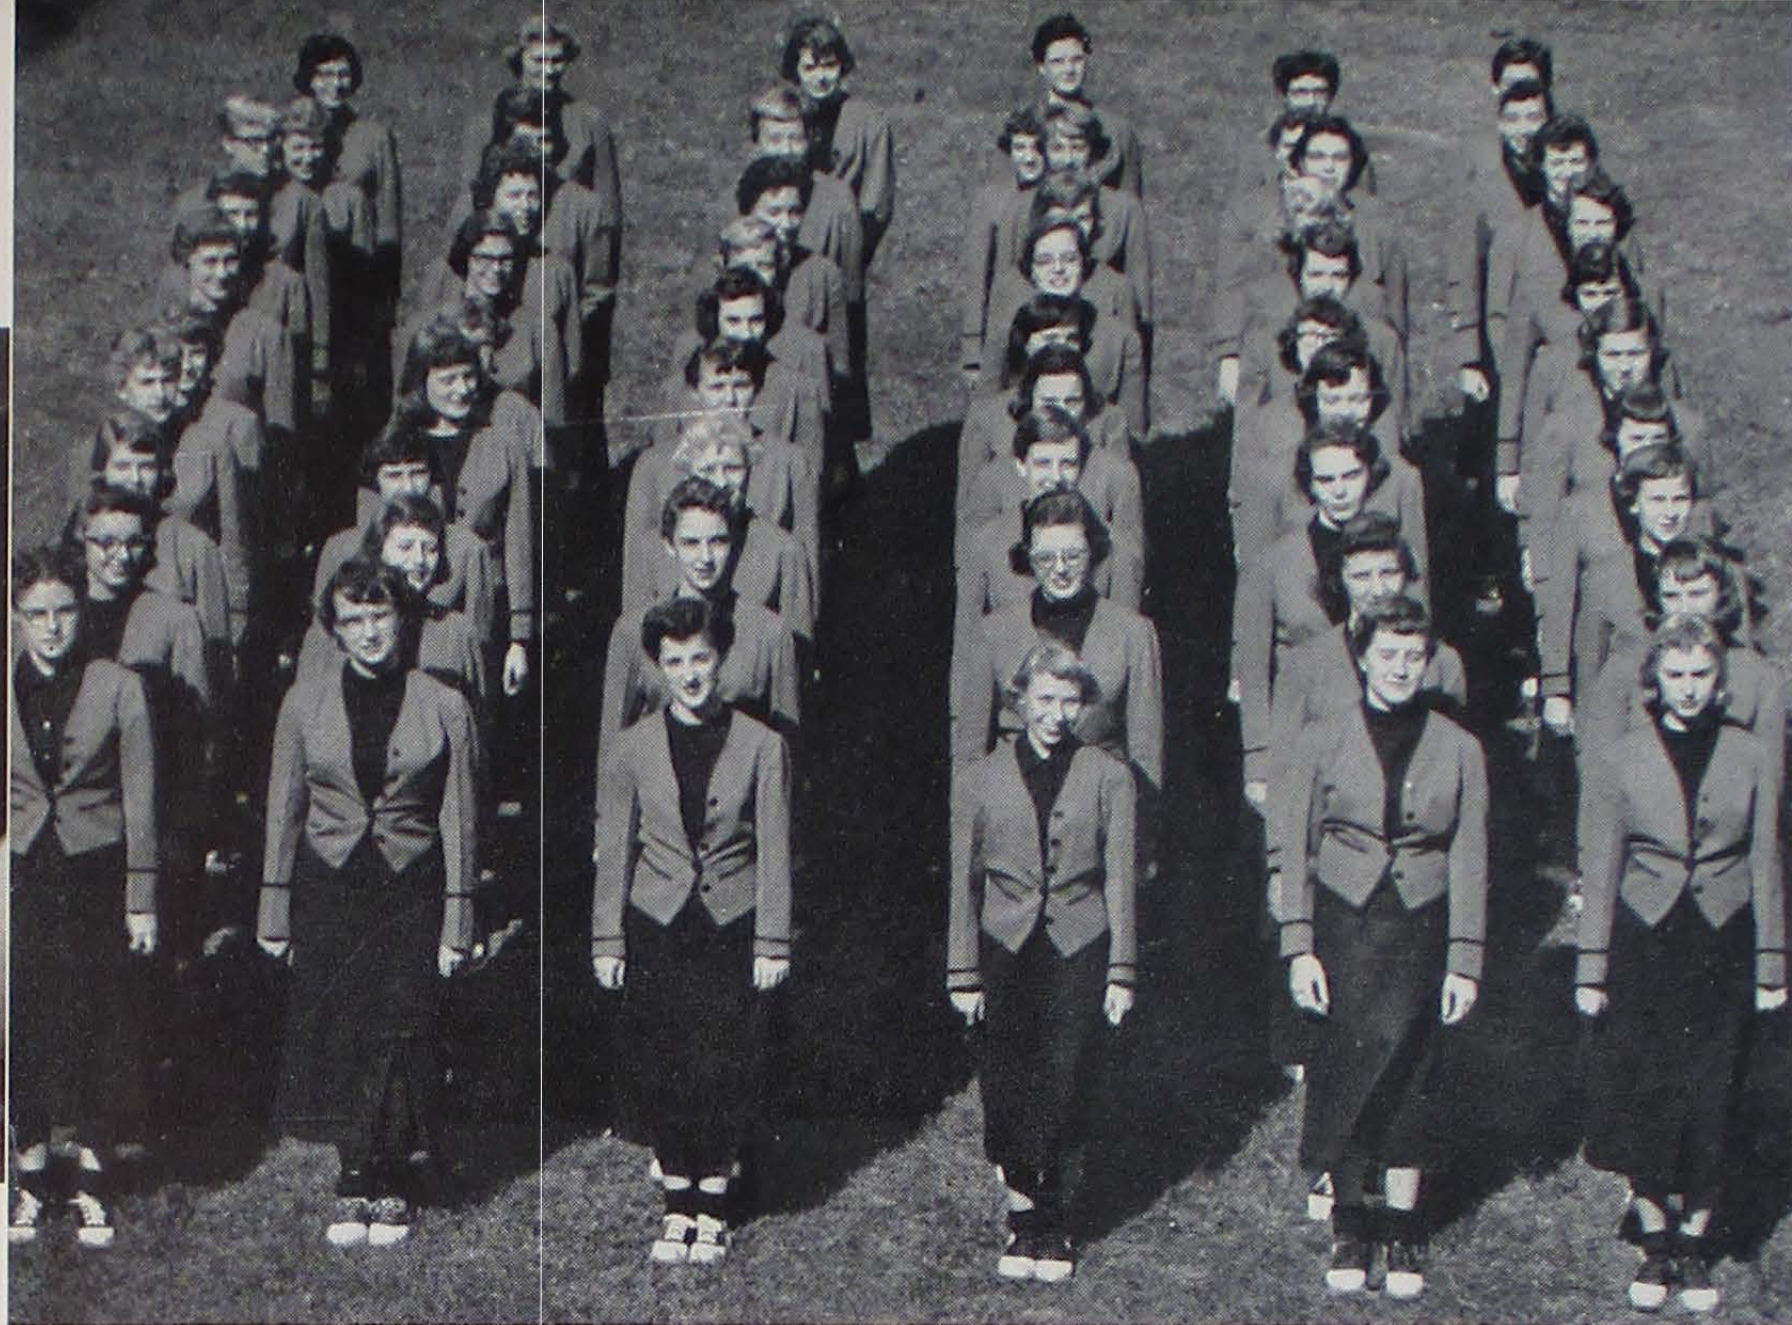

The shutter-bugs of Ames High school clicked their cameras at willing and unwilling subjects, developed film, and improved their photo techniques.

Displays of the finished projects were shown at various programs throughout the year. This year the club selected its 12 favorite prizewinning prints from National Photographic Awards for display in the high school library.

The club met every Thursday fourth period. To aide the learning progress of the club, programs of demonstrations, discussions, field trips, and guest speakers were produced and staged. The field trips were included for photographing pets, people, and new cars, as well as the inanimate objects.

John Talbert held the position of program chairman.

Mr. Trump held the shutter as sponsor.

Pep Club and Cheersquad

CHEERSQUAD

The hearts and vocal chords of the Ames High cheersquad were in their yells.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Esther Smith the six leaders held business meetings on Monday mornings, and practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

PEP CLUB

The most persistent spirits of the school aroused enthusiasm at all the athletic events in which Ames High participated. The organized group which maintained the high-pitched spirit was the Pep Club, composed of every willing senior girl.

The orange-jacketed girls provided a service by ushering at different public events. Several potlucks were held before different games to plan the most important of all game strategy, that of the Ames High Spirit.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Doyle and co-operating with Mr. Day and his band, the group provided half-time entertainment of precision drills for both the football and basketball seasons.

Calling the drills and commanding the respect of the girls were their chosen leaders: Judy Broadwell, president; Gail Walker, vice president; Maryn Searls, secretary; and Janice Gore, treasurer.

A constitution which has been a tradition of the club was upheld by the integrity of each girl. Laws were stated with light fees to be paid if broken.

The varsity football team wasn't the only championship team around Ames High this year. The sophomores were the undisputed kings in their own bracket.

Before the arrival of the new coach, Wally Linn, Ray Smalling coached the team. The twenty nine boys put in many hours of hard work learning the fundamentals and techniques of the game. They had opportunity to practice them in five games this season and in all five they emerged as the victors.

Although this team was unheralded and unpublicized, its members gained valuable knowledge and training for future varsity play.

John Highbarger acted as trainer for the team.

After the completion of the season the team presented Wally Linn with a gift in appreciation of his efforts.

The season's scoreboard included victories over Marshalltown, Webster City, East Des Moines, Boone, and Nevada.

CIC Champs

The Ames High Little Cyclones won their seventeenth CIC Championship with a record of six wins and two losses. The Little Cyclones made a total of 201 points and held their opponents to 76. Captain Larry Spear lead the scoring attack with a total of 54 points followed by Chuck Kilstrom, 36; Bob Covey, 35; and Fritz Jackson, 24.

AMES 7—MASON CITY 0

The Little Cyclones successfully opened the 1955 grid season with a 7-0 victory. Larry Spear made the single touchdown in the pouring rain. Singled out as playing a fine game for the Cyclones were 48 minute linemen, Stuart, Reilly, and Sucher and halfback, Spear.

AMES 14—NEWTON 7

Ames High slipped past Newton in a battle of two Central Iowa Conference favorites. The first tally came when Chuck Lamson passed to Larry Spear for 25 yards and a touchdown. A minute left Jackson hit Spear for 40 yards. Chuck Kilstrom scored the winning touchdown and made important tackles throughout the game.

AMES 25—MARSHALLTOWN 6

The Little Cyclones trounced Marshalltown in a fight for the CIC lead. Touchdowns were made by Chuck Kilstrom, Larry Spear, and Fritz Jackson. Chuck Lamson passed to Dick Brooks for the final touchdown.

AMES 47—OSKALOOSA 8

Before the 1955 homecoming crowd, the undefeated Ames team rolled over Oskaloosa. Coach Kenny Wells used every man with Spear scoring twice and Covey, Kilstrom, Houck, Stuart, and Gaskill scoring single touchdowns. Covey toed 3 points and Carpenter 2. The most exciting play of the game was by Chuck Gaskill with a last-play-of-the-game run for 35 yards and stepping onto pay dirt with the sound of the gun. Stuart was singled out for outstanding play.

AMES 20—WEST WATERLOO 21

The Little Cyclones met their Waterloo at the hands of the undefeated Wahawks. It was a hard fought game with the Wahawks having complete control of the first half. The second half was a complete reversal with Ames on the marching end.

Award winners: Larry Spear, Dave Sucher, and Bill Stuart

Jackson, Ostermann, and Spear all tallied for Ames while Covey converted two extra points.

AMES 34—GRINNELL 7

Clinching a tie for the CIC title, the Ames team won over the Grinnell Tigers. The Grinnell defense stopped Ames' passing game and held Ames to one touchdown in the first half. Larry Spear lead the way for Ames with 155 yards in 16 carries.

The game was ended with "last-play-touchdown-Gaskill" as the third string quarterback went over with no time showing on the clock. Other touchdowns were made by Covey, Jackson, and two by Kilstrom.

AMES 13—ROOSEVELT 27

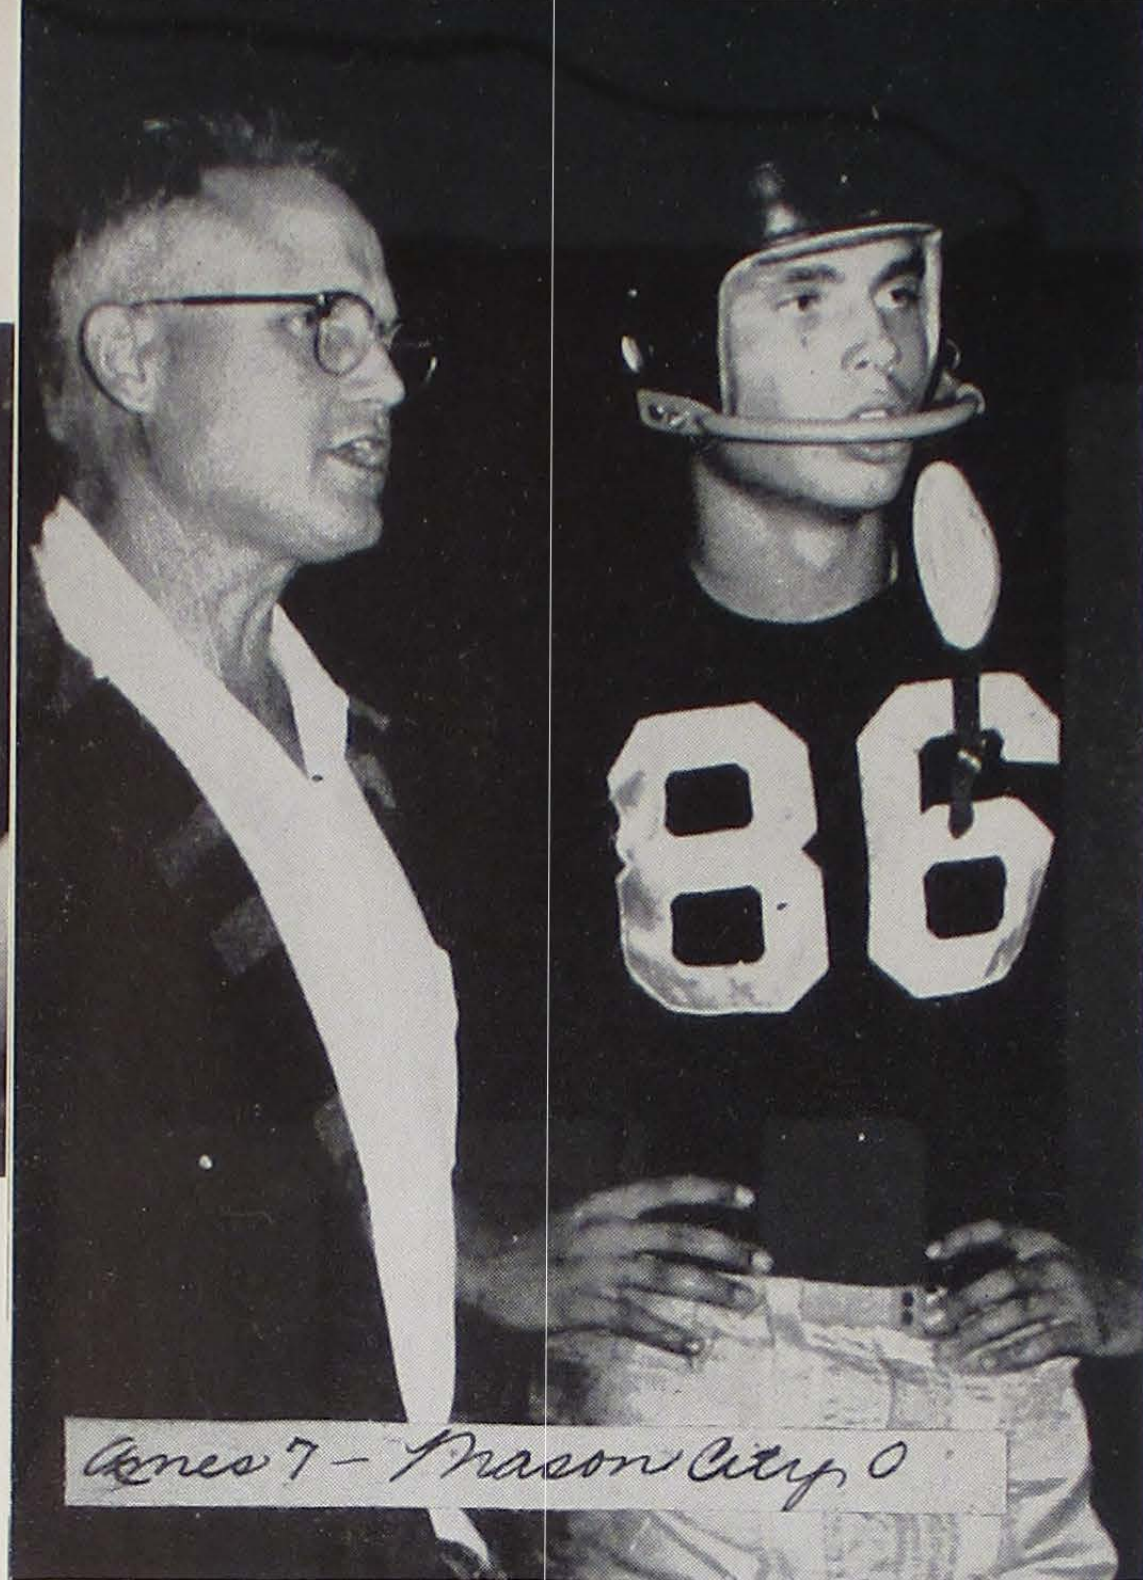

In their first battle with the Roosevelt Roughriders and their last homegame, the Little Cyclones suffered a second non-conference loss. Larry Spear broke through for 27 yards and a touchdown. The second Ames touchdown was made by Fritz Jackson with 30 seconds remaining in the first half. Covey made the extra point.

AMES 41—BOONE 0

The Little Cyclones rolled over the Boone Treadors to give Ames sole possession of the Central Iowa Conference crown.

Coach Kenny Wells substituted freely with the complete squad of 51 boys playing. The Ames defense only let the Treadors into Ames territory once. Touchdowns were made by Kilstrom, Covey, Stuart, Carpenter, and two by Spear. Covey made 4 extra points and Carpenter one.

It was the last game for 22 seniors.

Varsity Basketball

With seven lettermen returning from the 1955 team, newly hired coach Wally Linn took over the job of coaching the Ames High basketball squad. Facing their foes with grim determination, the Ames Little Cyclones fought their way through a rugged basketball season.

Following is the season's scoreboard:

Ames 55—Mason City 52
 Ames 40—Webster City 41
 Ames 47—Carroll 66
 Ames 47—Grinnell 51
 Ames 58—Boone 47
 Ames 62—Oskaloosa 68

 Ames 83—Boone 66
 Ames 60—Oskaloosa 62
 Ames 65—Newton 59
 Ames 51—Marshalltown 81
 Ames 71—S. C. Central 66

After completing their regular basketball season, the Little Cyclones advanced through the sectional tournament by whipping Maxwell 83-42 and licking Nevada 56-48.

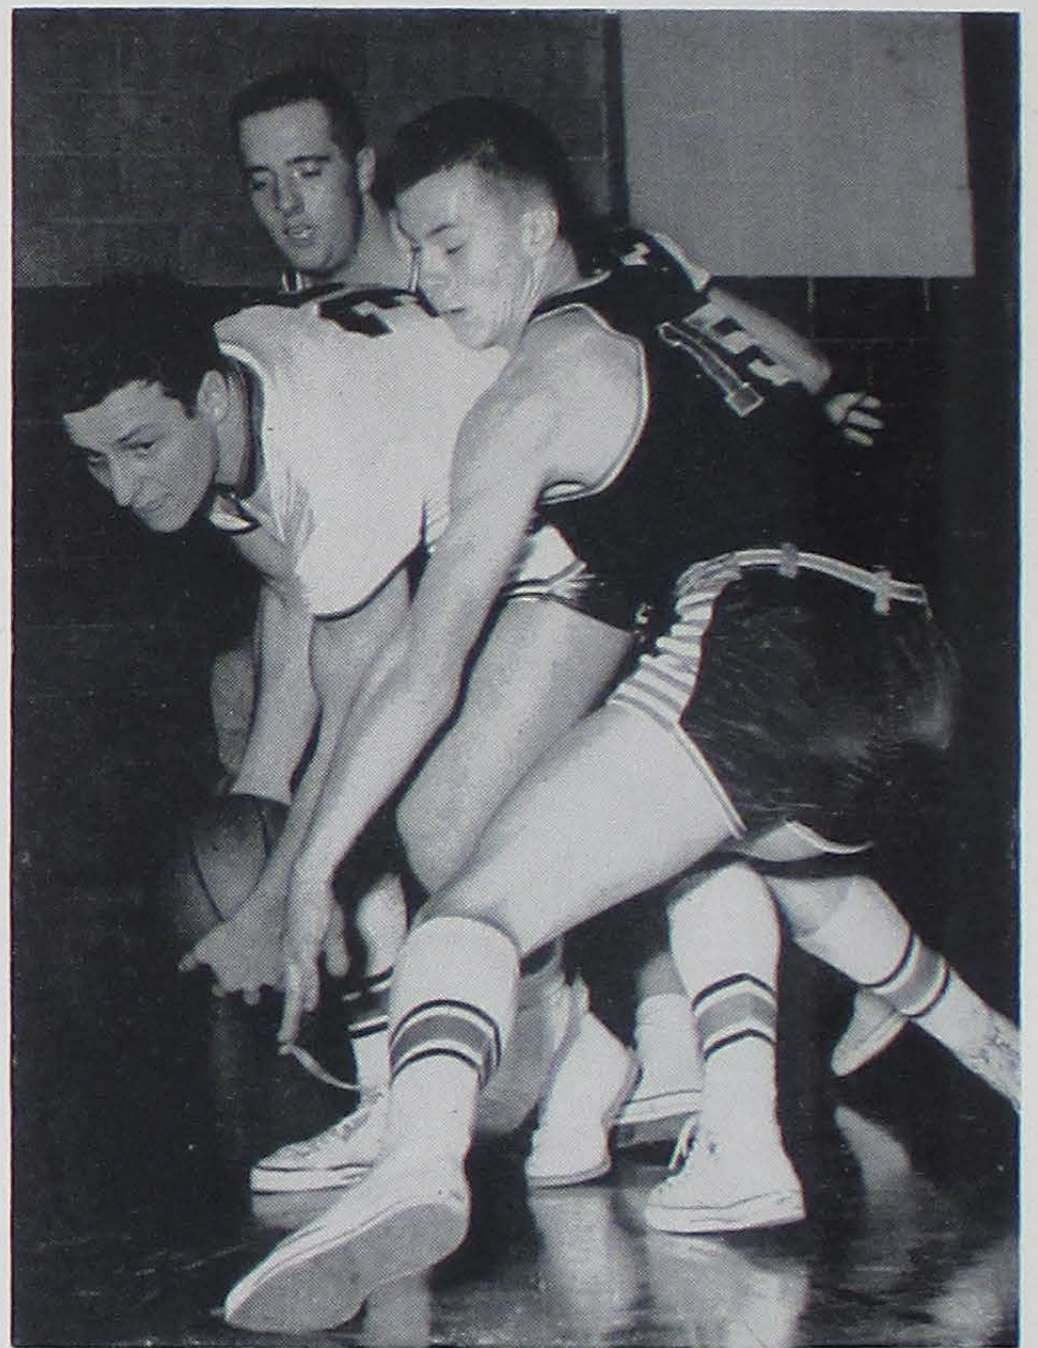

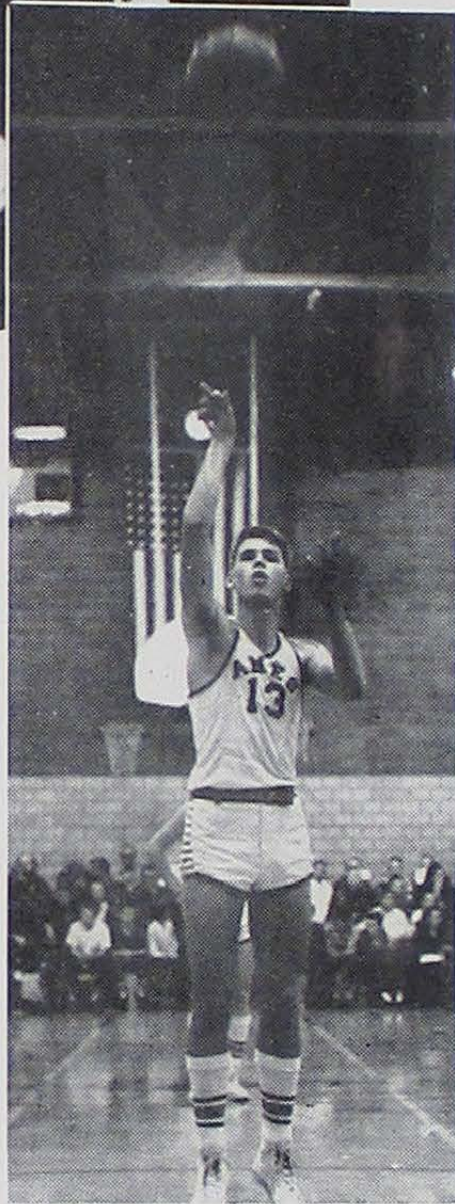

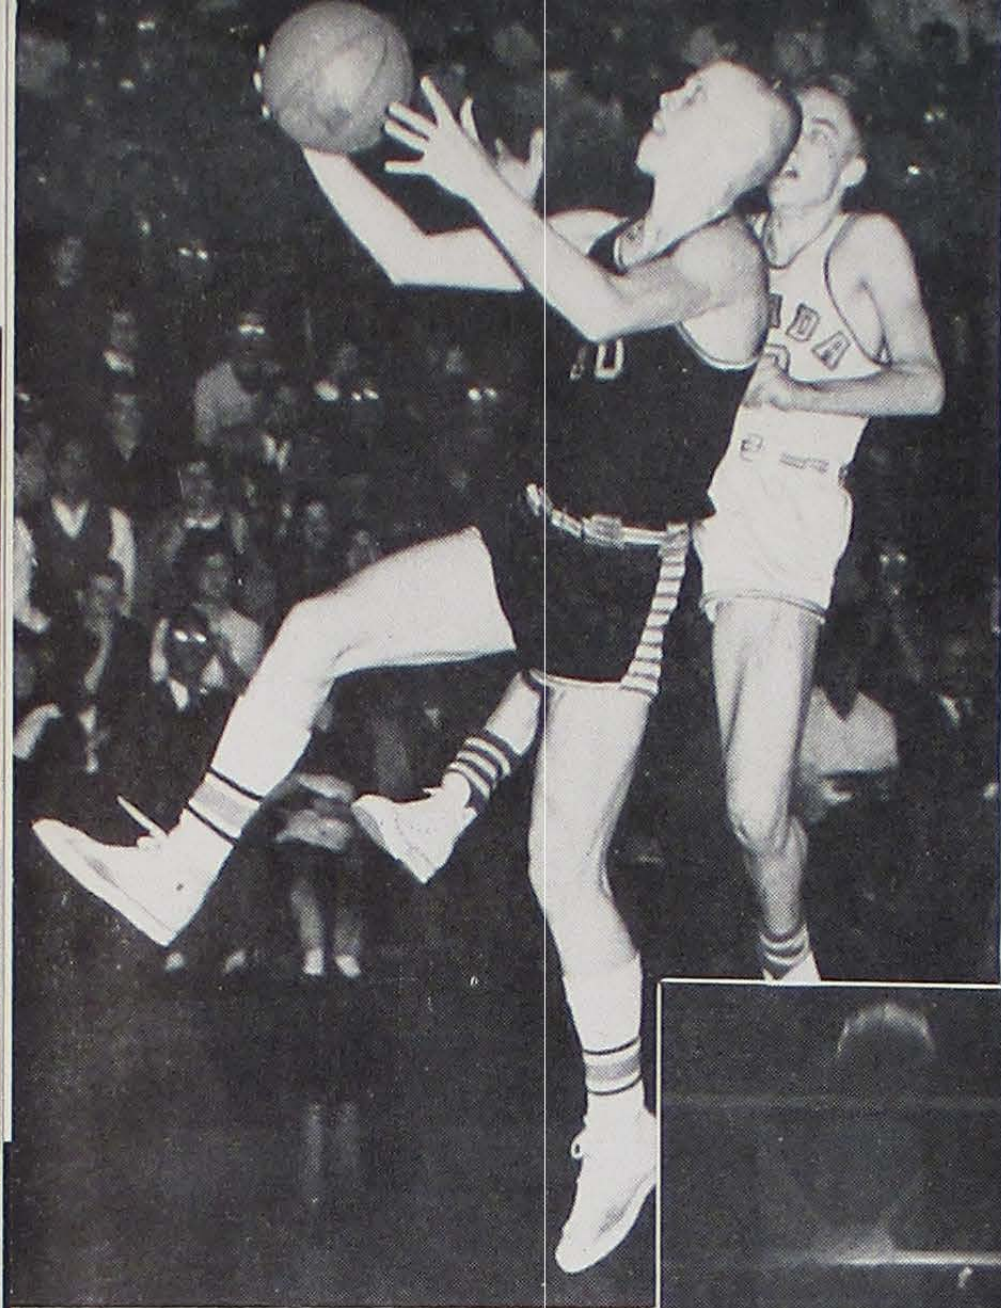

I.D.P.A. Forward, Bill Stuart

Ames advanced through their first game of the district play by whipping Adel 65-53. In a thrilling battle Ames managed to squeeze by Boone 55-53 in the semi-final district game. Carrying their traditional spirit and their record into the final game of district play with the powerful Marshalltown Bobcats the Little Cyclones made a proud showing but fell to the champions of the C.I.C., who later became the state champs.

The Ames High Little Cyclones won the state indoor championship and the Valley Relays, but forfeited the trophies because of an ineligible player on the Ames team. However, the Ames thinclads proved by their ability and performance that they really were the state's finest track team.

Included in their list of meets was the Bobcat Invitational Track Meet, at Marshalltown which Ames decisively won.

Other meets included the Drake Relays held in Des Moines, the Ames Invitational Tri-Angular Track Meet (North of Des Moines, Marshalltown, and Ames), the District Meet, the Central Iowa Conference Track Meet at Newton, and the State Outdoor Track Meet.

Bill Heath and Larry Spear were elected co-captains of the team.

The team was spurred on to their heights by the excellent coaching of Hi Covey.

Fore! - - - shouts the master, Bobby Donels.

Golf

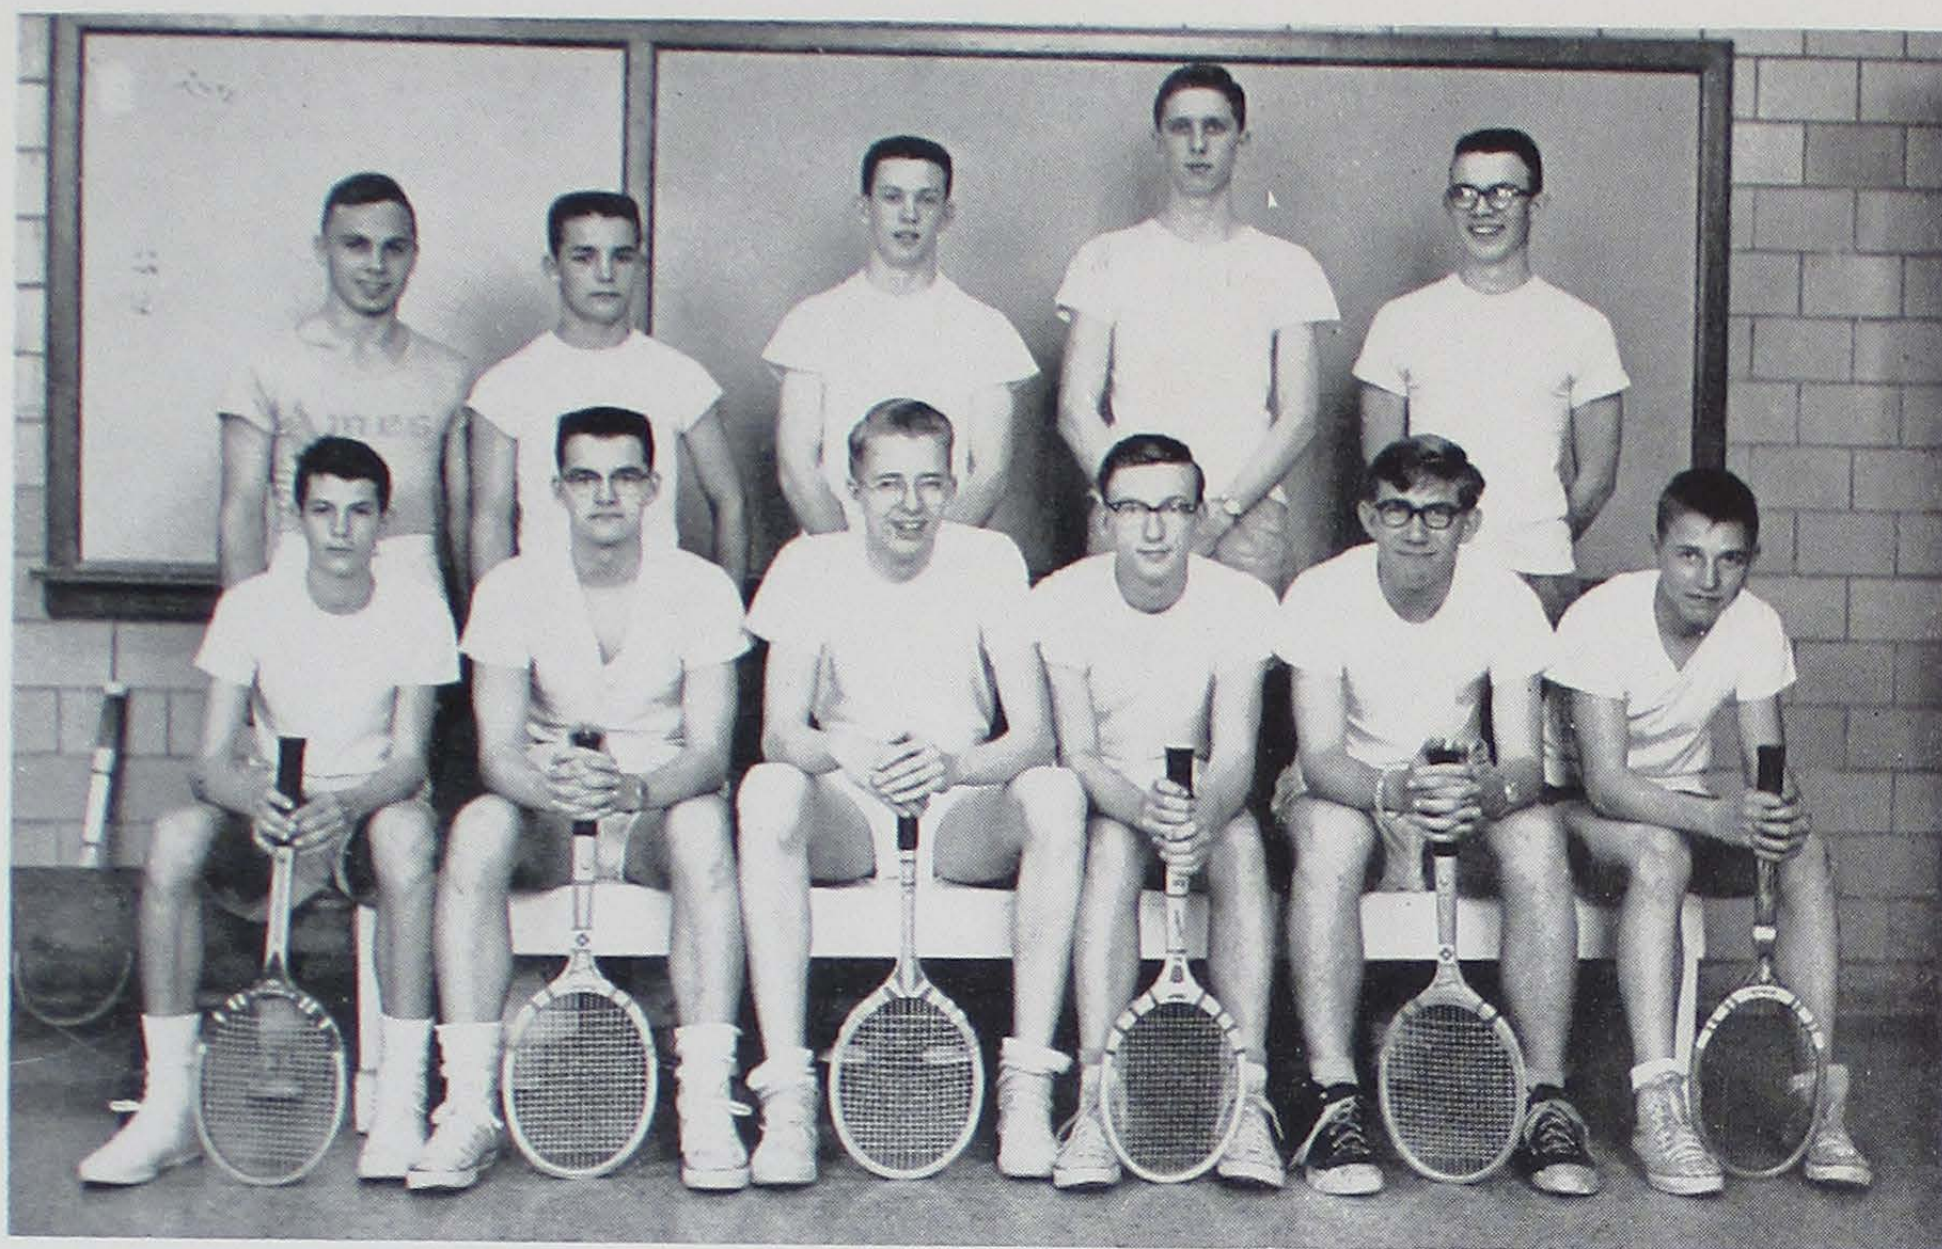

"Stop that putting around" was a statement often hear around school, but certainly not around the golf club. The team, coached by Wally Linn, entered the following thirteen meets and was anything but unlucky in their efforts.

At the beginning of March several boys reported to the gym to practice for the tennis team. This year, with four returning letter-men, the team had one of its better seasons. Again playing some of the best teams in the state, the team had a schedule of 13 dual meets and was entered in four tournaments. The dual meets were with the Central Iowa Conference schools and the larger schools around central Iowa. The coaches were Kenneth Wells and Donald Hartt.

Baseball

"Let's go to the ballgame" was heard many, many times last summer as Ames got its first baseball season in its athletic history under way.

Starting off and finishing in typical Ames High manner, the Ames roster boasted a season of ten wins and four loses.

- Ames 11—Grand Junction 1
- Ames 1—West D. M. 3
- Ames 9—Roland 1
- Ames 5 East D. M. 8
- Ames 2—East D. M. 3

Berry, Evans, Ostermann.

Forty-six boys, all winners of major awards in athletics, claimed membership to one of the more exclusive clubs of Ames High, the Varsity Club.

The Varsity Club's chief function was the furtherance of athletics for younger boys through its support of tournaments and intramural activities.

The group was led by Larry Spear, president. Steve Adams served as vice-president and Bob Ellis acted as secretary. The club was sponsored by Kenneth Wells, athletic director.

The group planned an initiation for new members which took place at a pep assembly. The annual Varsity Club picnic was also on the list of activities planned by the organization.

Earning a major A, the only qualification for becoming a member, required a certain amount of time spent in participating in school sports. To earn a major A in football boys must have participated in one-half of the quarters played during the season, or on recommendation of the coach for three years participation, or as an important factor in the team.

A basketball award winner must have participated in one-third of the quarters of the total number of basketball games.

Tennis players were eligible for a major A if they earned twenty-eight points, one-third of the possible points from various tournaments, excluding the final state tournament. A total of one hundred and eighty points was required to win a major letter in track.

Golf awards required one-half of the possible points for the season, averaging eighty-three strokes or under for all eighteen hole meets, placing first or second in the state meet, or playing in two-thirds of the meets.

A baseball fielder or infielder is eligible for a major A if he plays in one-half of the total innings. A pitcher or a catcher may receive an award by participating in one-fourth of the total innings. All members of state championship teams receive a major letter.

Intramurals

Remember the homeroom! Sweat and muscles defend its name.

Sixteen different sports ranging from table-tennis to wrestling were offered to all boys interested in intramurals this year.

Under the watchful eyes of Ray Smalling, intramural director and Dale Heide-man, assistant director, each homeroom in the high school competed with others for the grand intramural trophy which was awarded to the homeroom with the majority of intramural points.

Individual ribbons were also awarded to all first place winners.

The grand trophy was awarded to the H.R. winner in each class.

BACK: Reilly, Heath, Brooks. SECOND: Morrow, Browning, Dreezen, Hildreth. FRONT: B. Alexander, DeVaul, Hansen, G. Ellis.

Eighty-four

G. A. A.

Bowling, softball, volleyball, basketball, tennis, golf, and badminton were all among the elective sports offered by G.A.A. this year.

Each girl receiving at least 100 points, which were earned by taking part in some sport or form of recreation, was formally initiated into G.A.A. in February.

Sally Eckhoff led the group this year. Diana Rex served as vice-president. The post of secretary-treasurer fell to Mary Platt. Kathy Wolf filled the position of intramural chairman, and Nancy Thompson and Judy Clark recorded points. Nancy Hagge acted as social chairman.

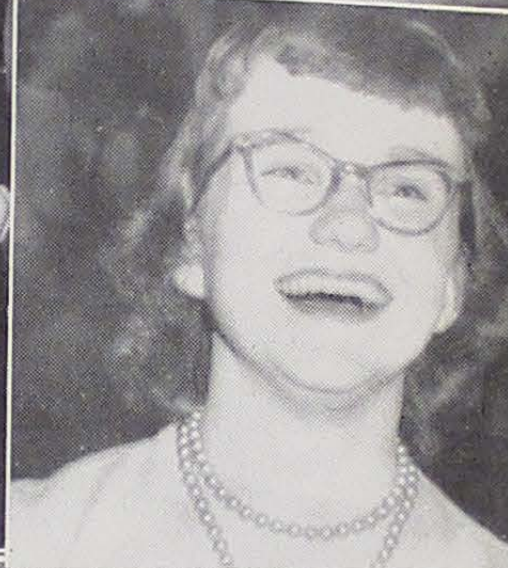

Awards were given to the winning teams at the awards assembly in the spring.

BACK: Andre, Eckhoff, Howell, Platt, Mrs. Smith. THIRD: K. Wolf, Mary Kay Judge, Lillie, K. Hanson, Small. SECOND: Dixon, N. Thompson, Hagge, Mary Judge, Davis. FRONT: Young, Searls, Alexander, Blyth, Rex.

MEMORIES

Homcoming

The smiles of Royalty - - Queen Sharon Small - - and attendants, Miss Maryn Searls and Miss Patty Warren.

Crowned with an air of dignity, Miss Sharon Small reigned over her subjects, the massive Homecoming crowd. She was aided by her two attendants, Patty Warren and Maryn Searls. The girls were selected by popular vote of the student body from a field of ten finalists. The co-captains, Ed Reilly and Chuck Kilstrom, announced the queens during a special assembly and presented them with flowers.

A snake-dance, the Ames High band, and the faithful student body formed a parade led by the queens. A float, constructed by the Pep Club, supported the team on their journey to the City Hall where Mayor Joseph Lawlor expressed his sentiments in a short talk before the pep rally.

The rousing homecoming game provided the thrills and spills of the occasion. Ames won over Oskaloosa, 47-8, providing a highlight in the Ames High football season.

To delight the spectators the queens were exhibited in cars before the game, as well as at the Intermission Coronation.

The beauties of Ames High selected by the student body as the ten finalists were Joyce Abbott, Maryn Searls, Patty Warren, Judy Broadwell, Bette Cottingham, Terry Gilreath, Sharon Small, Barb Smith, Mary Platt, Jean Talcott, and Ruth Ann Smith.

BACK: Cottingham, Eckhoff, Platt, VanScoy, Dye, Robbins. FRONT: Warren, Abbott, Talcott, Searls.

Spirit Dance

"Carousel" was the theme of the festive SPIRIT dance which was held January 28. The decorations centered around the platform which held the mystic figure of a circus horse in a colorful canope. This was the platform which upheld the slight figure of Miss Patty Warren who reigned over the evening as SPIRIT Sweetheart, attended by Delores Robbins, Joyce Abbott and Maryn Searls.

Barb Kurtz, chairman; Mary Platt, decorations; and John Puffett, master of ceremonies worked hard to make the evening reach perfection. John Murray won the free SPIRIT.

Friendship Week Speaker,
Reverend Allan Justad

Friendship Week

On January 15-19 the deep-thinking students of Ames High turned their thoughts of the present into the future by choosing the theme "Your Life is a Sermon" for their Friendship Week.

The twenty-ninth annual Friendship Week was conducted by the guest speaker, Reverend Allan Justad, associate minister of the Trinity Methodist Church in Grand Island, Nebraska. He was the guest of both the Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y cabinets and representatives, who annually sponsor Friendship Week, at school luncheons.

The week began with all out to church Sunday. The students were given an opportunity to air their views on different weighty problems in the "huddle groups" on Monday.

Speaking to the receptive student body on the following days, Reverend Justad delivered three talks, "Accept This Sermon," "Believe In This Sermon," and "Live This Sermon."

Enjoyed by each of the individual classes was an open forum conducted by Reverend Justad. Many pertinent problems were discussed openly, as well as in private conferences with Reverend Justad.

Devotions were held each morning and noon.

Back to School Night

Ames High School held its annual open house on Thursday evening, November 10, from 7:15 to 9:45 p. m. Back-To-School Night has been a tradition in Ames High for twenty years.

Ames High School students and their parents attended their Friday morning classes on Thursday evening. An attempt was made to show parents and other visitors what goes on in the regular classes of an A. H. S. student. Highlights of the evening were a talent assembly and a student-parent-faculty tea. Films were shown in the study hall all evening

Spelldown

"Misspell"

"diphtheria"

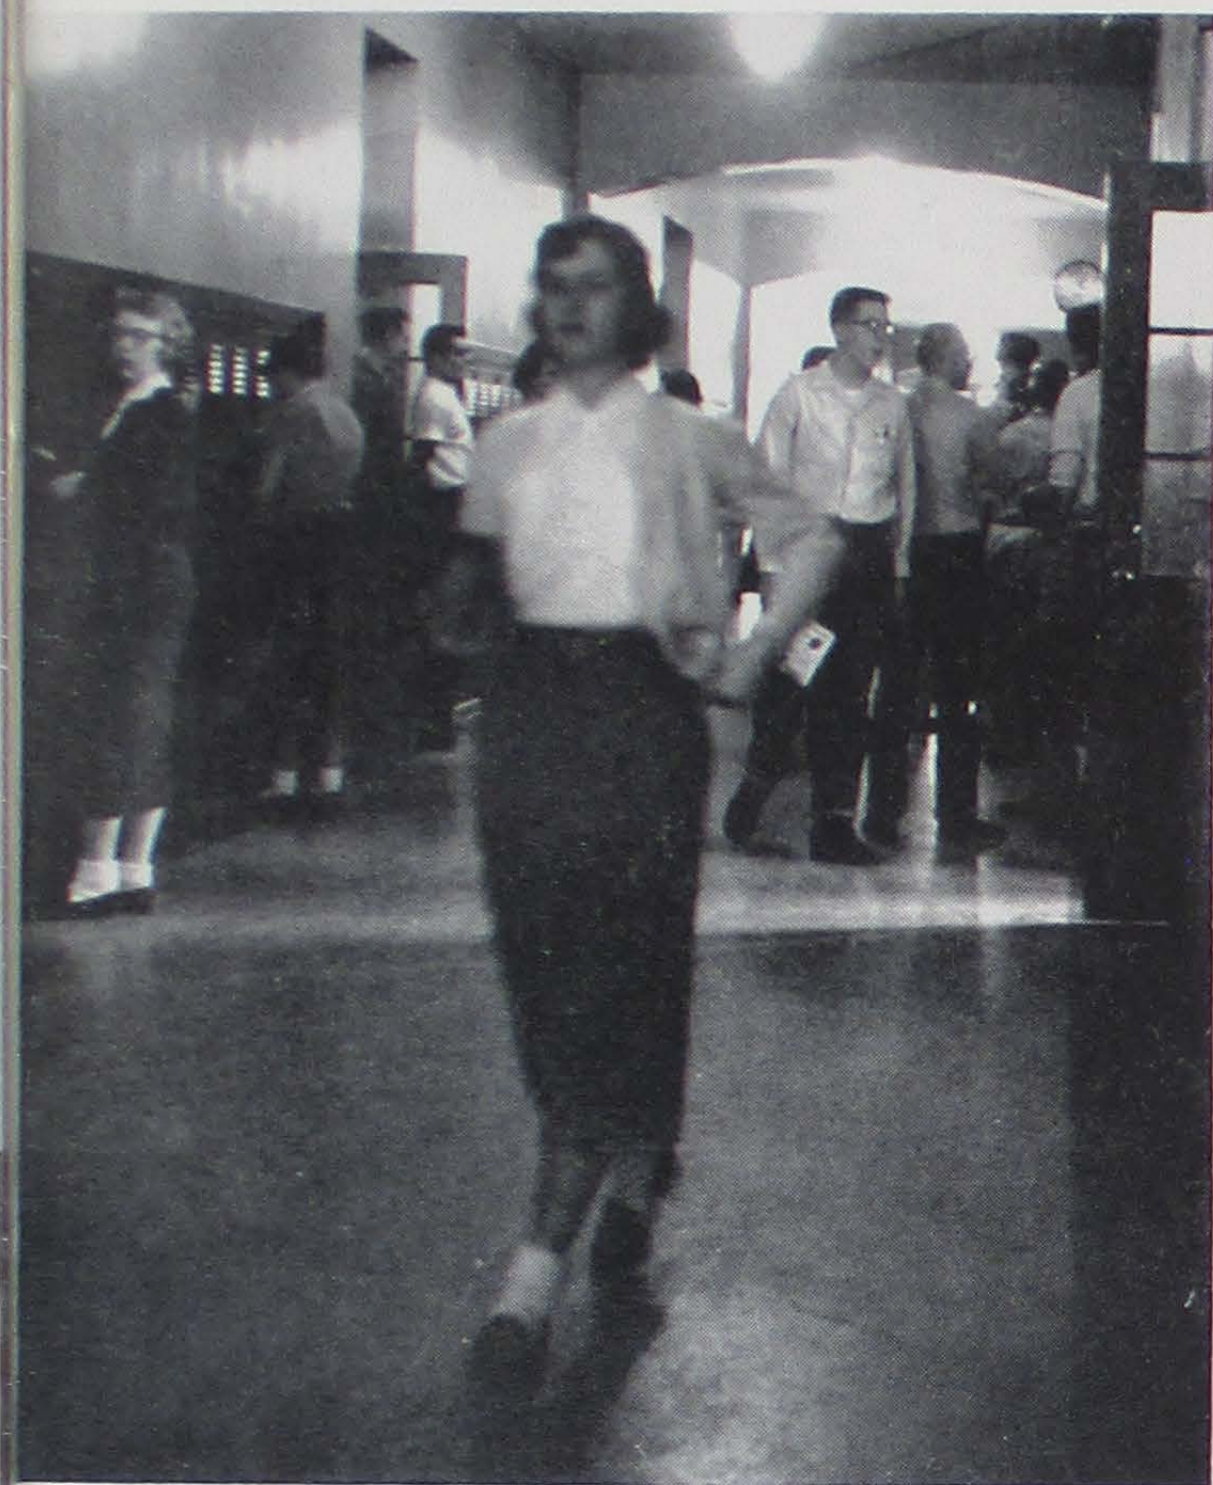

"conscientious"

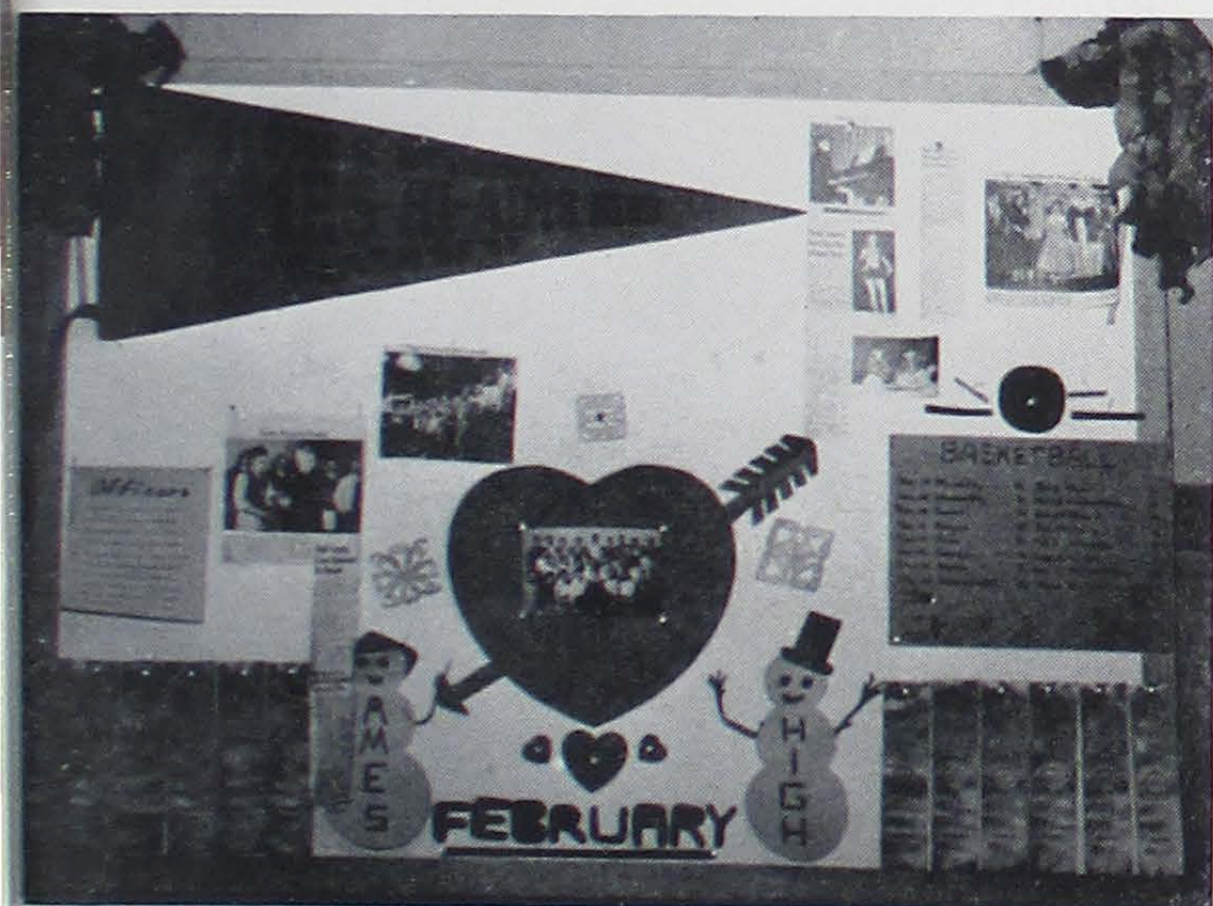

"Doctor, lawyer, Indian chief" which will it be? This was a question 52 qualified speakers tried to answer when they spoke at Career Day, March 2. Each student heard three lectures on vocations of his choice. Welch and Central 9th graders were guests of the Ames High student body.

'56 SPIRIT STAFF

Jackie and Barb like to stop in for a coke at the L-Way Cafe.

When Larry wants to get spruced up, he goes to Shipley's Barber Shop.

Dick goes to the College Cleaners for an expert job of dry cleaning.

Bill's planning for his future at Brown Insurance Service.

Pat and Marianne are checking out at Overland after a snack.

Dennis is getting expert advice at Earl's Garage.

Stopping in at Younkers Men's department, Jack can hardly resist buying a sweater.

Norm finds a wide selection of colors in the paint department of Irvine's.

Dennis and Keith think those spudnuts from Joy's Spudnut Shop are delicious.

Mike and Karsten find the Rainbow a good place to stop in for a coke after the show.

Mary Jo's just mad about that convertible from Dunlap Motor Company.

To keep up on all the latest events, Bing watches his TV set from Gulliver Radio and TV.

Sandy can hardly make up her mind on a skirt with a selection like this at Younkers.

To satisfy all his reading needs, Johnny goes to Walt's News Stand.

When Nancy sends flowers from DeLeart Florist, she can pick a cute card, too.

Warren will tell you that his clothes came out cleaner from Lindquist's.

The wide variety of perfumes at Campus Drug make Stella's birthday shopping an easy job.

At Ames Pantorium, Rog can be sure of fine quality cleaning.

Jerry's checking out at Tom's Grill after a tasty pizza with the gang.

Dave's picking up his favorite magazine at the College Pipe Shop.

Paul's stopping in for an eye examination at Jensen Optical.

Rosie and Marcia can pick out candy for any occasion at Sweetland.

Kent is discovering just what it is that keeps food so fresh at Christianson Appliance.

Jo Ann is really getting the works at Contoure Beauty Salon.

Wouldn't it be nice to own a car like that one from Mathison's, Margie?

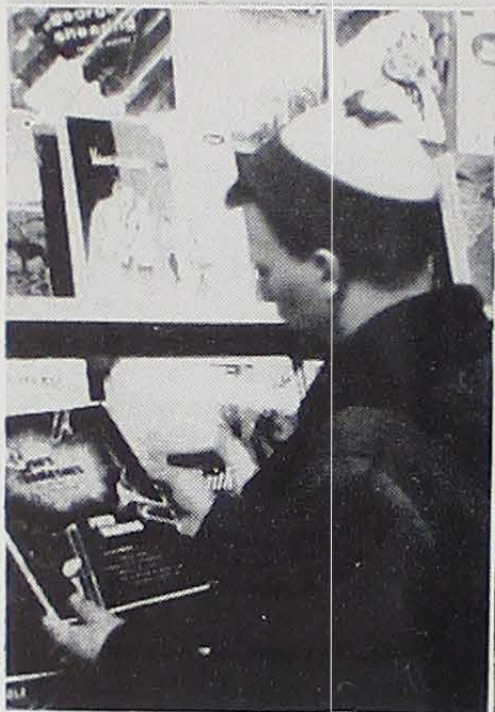

Sheesley D-X is the place to go for all your auto supplies, says Leon.

Jim knows the value of hot water. That's why he's looking at heaters at Palmer Plumbing.

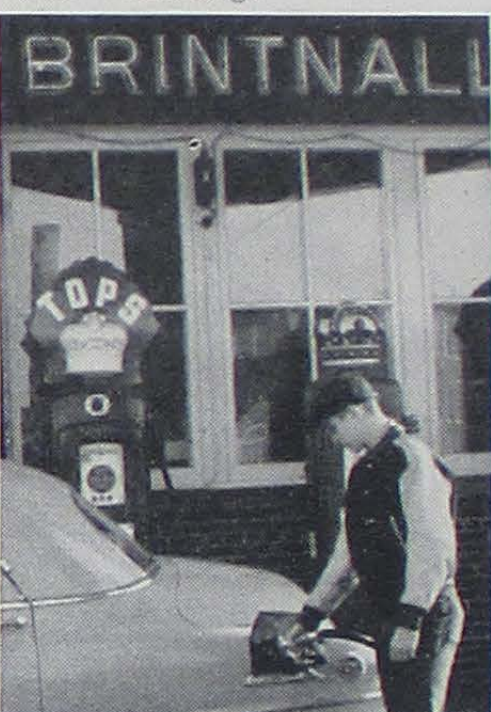

When Linda learned to type, she went right to Ness Typewriter to look for a new machine.

Joe finds a wide selection of records to supplement his collection at Ames Hardware and Music.

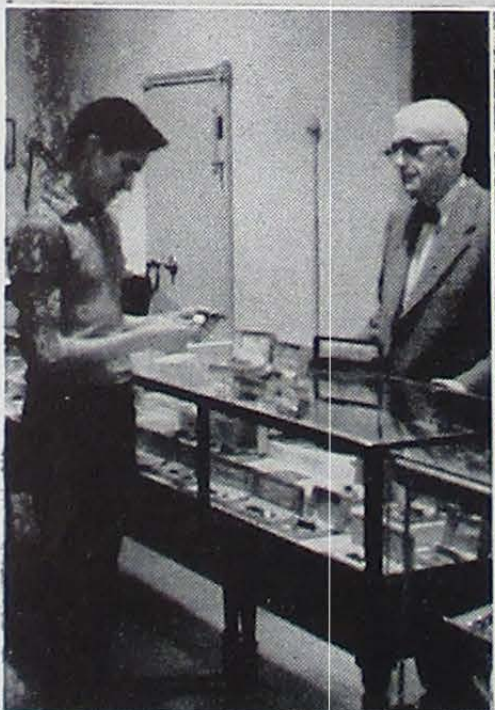

To get good-looking and fine-fitting shoes, Karen goes to Bauge's Shoe Store.

Jack fills up the family car at Brintnall's Stand and Service.

Ellen was looking for a sweater, and she found it at Smart and Thrifty.

Jim can be very sure of a fine quality watch from Talbert's Jewelers.

Iva Jean finds every-day low values when she does the family shopping at Rushings.

Dick tries his hand at doing the laundry at Millard's Self-Service Laundry.

Mmm! Ade knows that she can fill up on goodies from Ferguson's Bakery.

Bill can't decide which light from Nelson Electric will look best on his front porch.

Dean gets all his school supplies from Student Supply.

Charlotte's picking out a sweater from McCartney's wide selection.

Mary's decided that this is the purse for her from Moser Luggage.

Girls, know where to find the boys? They're down at Ames Recreation Center enjoying a game of pool.

Bill finds just the shirt he wants every time at Berck Clothing.

Merv's not taking any chances when he gets his insurance at Holtz & Neirn Insurance.

Kathie's ready to take off in that swell new Plymouth from Motor Sales and Service.

Bob and Jack like to stop in often for a coke at Frango's.

Barb's crazy about that car from Mathison Mercury.

Nancy and Mery like to hash things over a coke at Scotty's Chicken Inn.

Chuck and Jim agree that movies are better than ever at the theaters of Ames.

Audrey's picking out a new jacket from Iowa Woolen.

Steve stops to pick up some refreshment from West Street Grocery.

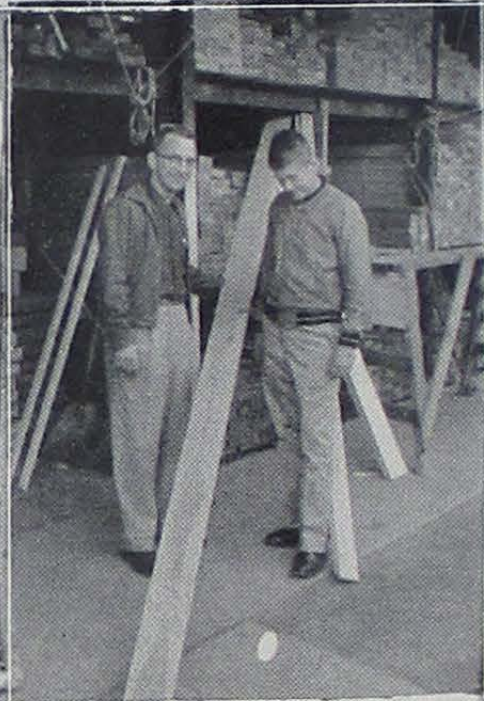

Gary finds really good-looking clothes at Joe's Men's Shop.

Jon's finding just the right machine part at Allen Machine Shop.

Bob stops by at Ninth Street Grocery to get a carton of cokes for the gang.

Ames Lumber supplies Dave with the lumber he wants for his projects.

With a heavenly formal like this from Younkers, Theil can't help but have a wonderful time.

Jim keeps up on the latest events by reading the Des Moines Register.

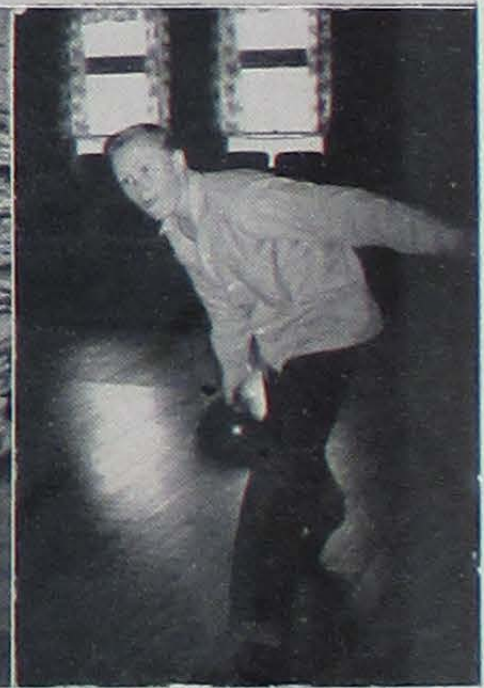

Younkers' fine cosmetic line suits Linda to a "T"

John's investigating furniture for his room at S. Hanson Lumber Company

Stag Clothing supplies Paul with good looking and reasonably priced clothes.

Jim's all set to make a strike at Ames Bowling Lanes.

Ed picks up choice cuts of meat for the family dinner at Ames Fruit and Grocery.

For extra-special lumber buys, Johnson Lumber is the place to go.

John knows that if he stops in at Rex Service Station, he will get low rates and fine service.

For excellent food and first rate service, eat at Neiswangers' Cafe.

Oslund's Drug Store supplies Mary with all her cosmetic needs.

For good fun, Skateland rates tops!

Frue gets truly expert and artful hair styling at Harriman's.

For that special occasion, Barb knows she can find lovely flowers at Everts Florists.
